

Subject: Application for job opportunity in computer science, data science or artificial intelligence.

Dear Hiring Manager,

As a recent graduate in computer science engineering with specialization in data science from ESPRIT, Tunisia, I am interested in working in your highly reputed company and provide my skill set for interesting projects.

During my studies and practical experience I have acquired knowledge in artificial intelligence, machine learning, deep learning, web development and AI applications based on large language models (LLMs) and retrieval augmented generation systems (RAG systems). I am proficient in Python, SQL and different technologies related to data processing, software development and intelligent systems.

I am a motivated engineer with the ability to adapt to different conditions and work on projects spite of the complexity. I am diligent and like to work in cooperation with other colleagues in the professional sphere. I am currently looking for an opportunity to work in modern conditions and continue to develop.

By working in your company I will have an opportunity to apply my experience, strengthen my knowledge and make a contribution to the success of your team.

I appreciate your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Ali Marzoug